

RAYMOND BURLEY SIGNATURE

The first ever Santos Martinez signature model has been afforded to Raymond Burley, one of the world's most talented and experienced classical guitarists. The SM2000RB is based on a custom-built Martin Fleeson model that for years had been Raymond's main performance guitar. Fleeson made the original in 1985, and died the following year. When Ray recently decided to retire the Fleeson model after years of service, Santos Martinez was the obvious next step.

The SM2000RB sticks closely to the Fleeson guitar's blueprint, with top quality woods and hardware used throughout, producing a beautiful classical tone that is equal to any stage or performance.
